DR. MEADE INJURED.

The sleet yesterday is responsible for several accidents, some more or less serious. Perhaps the most serious of any was that of Rev. Dr. Meade, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, who fell upon the ice near the centre of Jefferson street dislocating his left shoulder and breaking the connection with the collar bone. He was crossing the street between the church and his residence at the time of the accident. Dr. Butler was called and bound up the injured shoulder and rendered such other surgical aid as was necessary. The accident happened about 4 o'clock and at 10 o'clock last night the Doctor was resting fairly well. It is hoped he will be able to be out in the course of a few days.

At the corner of Commerce and Salem avenue Fred Cooper fell and injured his back. It was only with the greatest difficulty and exertion that he managed to crawl out of the way of a delivery wagon which was being driven down the street at a fast rate. There were several other slight accidents.

BATTLE OF ELEMENTS.

The rain which began to fall about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon soon covered the streets and sidewalks with a coating of ice, and the hail that followed in half an hour made locomotion difficult and disagreeable to all whose business or necessities compelled them to walk about the city. Towards 11 o'clock it began to snow steadily, adding still more to the general discomfort of all exposed to the weather. There is not the least doubt that the people of Roanoke are now having real winter weather, and as it holds on so long, it is hoped when it changes it will be for good until the song of the blue bird is heard in the orchard and the apple blossoms show that spring has come.

THE PROPOSED CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

About twenty-five members of different labor organizations assembled Sunday afternoon in the Berkeley building to perfect arrangements looking to the formation of a Central Labor Union. Quite a number of contributions have already been made, but the need is still urgent and all that can be given is earnestly desired.

A SCIENTIFIC WONDER.

A new invention that is a great wonder has just been patented by J. F. Baugh, of Box, Miss., who has invented a machine that will make butter in two or three minutes. The Baugh air churn is unlike any device that has ever been invented for churning. At the top of the churn is an air tube connected to the bottom ports, which discharge the air through the milk against the brakes on the sides, giving the finest agitation with pure air. The gearing of the machine makes 1,600 revolutions of this propeller in a minute and agitates the cream a thousand times more strongly than the ordinary dasher churn. This immense agitation brings the butter instantly. We have watched the process. It is marvelous. The cream is placed in the churn, and a few turns of a large wheel will separate the butter and it appears on the surface all gathered. No more standing an hour and a half or two hours over a churning. Any one who is out of employment should not miss the opportunity. All that you need to do is to make butter on churning day, and every one will be sure to buy. In one neighborhood from twenty to thirty churns can easily be sold, and the profits on these to agents will easily give them $150 a month. When an agent makes butter in two or three minutes before a farmer's wife, "the handle of the old dasher lifts heavier than ever." Call at the office of the Central Manufacturing Co., on Campbell avenue, and see the churn now on exhibition and manufactured by this company in Roanoke.

HUSTINGS COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The February term of the hustings court began yesterday with the charge of Judge Woods to the grand jury, who went to work on the cases of alleged violations of the law before them, after which the following cases were disposed of: Mrs. Belle Rose, charged with selling liquor without a license on election day, withdrew her application for an appeal and was fined $25 and sentenced to ten hours imprisonment in jail. The case of Millie Withers, who appealed from a decision in the justice's court, was heard and a fine of $5 imposed, thus sustaining the decision of the lower court. The case of Robert Conner, charged with the larceny of a watch, is set for trial to-day, as is also that of Walter Jamison, charged with house-breaking.
